Clue to the Plotters. local police are working on story that for a long time past the at riment of a woman at No. 119 Belmont avenue, near St. Stanislaus's rectory, has been the meeting place of a number of men after mass on Sundays. It is said that at times these meetings were very stormy and that threats against the life of the pastor were made. The object of these meetings, according to the information given to the police, was to devise some means of getting rid of the priest, who was very unpopular with some of his parishoners. The names of some of the men who attended these meetings are known, as is also the name of the Antonia Sapxcycka, the housekeeper who was shot at the time Father Ansion was murdered, and who is now in St. Barnabas's Hospital, is said by the physicians there to be improving. They say she will be able to leave the institution within a week, unless blood poisoning sets in. The bullet, which penetrated the abdomen, was removed hat the hospital. Only one of the suspects who are under arrest in connection with the murder has been taken before the injured woman at the hospital, and while she told the police he strongly resembled one of them.

Funeral of Slain Priest.

The body of Father Ansion was removed to the rectory on Belmont avenue from Holley's morgue this morning. The transfer was attended with considerable excitement, as the place was surrounded by a throng of parishioners. The body was taken into the house where the priest was shot down yesterday, and nobody was permitted to wiew it.

yes trong, and mosoly was permitted view it.

It is the intention of the priest's friends not to have the body lie in state in St. Aloysius's Church for fear of more trouble. For the same reason it has been decided to hold the funeral on Saturday at St. Anthony's Church, Jersey City, where Father Ansion was at one lime stationed. The body will be taken there to-morrow and the burial will be in Jersey City. Fatter Ansion has no relatives in this country. He expected his mother and sister from Poland next month.

PARSONS QUITS M'ADOO; GREAT SUBWAY FIGHT ON

Clash of Financial Interests Causes Him to Resign Hudson Tunnels Connection.

TWO BIG GROUPS WAR.

Ryan's Followers Are in Interborough and Brady Is Moving Spirit in Rival.

It became known to-day that William she failed to identify him as one of Barclay Parsons is no longer consulting the three who entered the rectory, engineer for the Hudson Companies, Charles M. Jacobs, the great English engineer, is now both chief engineer and consulting engineer for the McAdoo companies, while Mr. Parsons is chief engineer for the Interborough-Metropolitan Company.

Oakman from the Interborough-Metropolitan Company's directorate, and the resignations of Cornelius Vanderbilt, Andrew Freedman and Gardiner M. Lane as directors in the Hudson Companies, announcement of the retirement of Mr. Parsons from the McAdoo interests is most significant.

Line Up of Millionaires.

A gigantic fight-the greatest New York City has ever seen-is now on before the Public Service Commission between a group of financiers behind William G. McAdoo on one hand against a group of financiers behind Theodore P Shonts on the other hand. This is the way propositions and counter-propositions now before the public.

Behind Mr. Shonts are the allied forces of the old Interborough Rapid Transit Co. and the Metropolitan Street
Railroad Co. His supporters are Thomas F. Ryan, August Belmont, J.
S. Auerbach, E. J. Berwind, Paul D.
Cravath, J. D. Crimmins, E. M. Dayison, T. P. Fowler, Andrew Freedman. Solomon Guggenheim, John B. McDonald, M. F. Plant, R. A. C. Smith, Cor-Life Savers Off to Aid of Vessel Lane, of Boston, and Peter A. B. nelius Vanderbilt, G. W. Young, G. M. Widener of Philadelphia.

Behind Mr. McAdoo are men connected with the Steel Trust and the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co. His chief supporters are Anthony N. Brady, Walter G. Oakman, Judge E. H. Gary, E. E. Converse, E. F. C. Young, of Jersey City, G. Tracy Rogers, of eight miles from this city. The John G. McCullough, Wilbur C. Fisk. Pliny Fisk and W. N. Barnum.
